Department. Corporate, Administrative and Class Action Litigation Department

Adv. Gutwirt is Vice Head of the Corporate, Administrative and Class Action Litigation Department.

Adv. Gutwirt specializes in handling complex proceedings and commercial disputes in various fields, including claims of developers, contractors and secondary suppliers in the construction and infrastructure field; real estate law; claims for the evacuation of intruders and licensed property owners; shareholder disputes and corporate control struggles; commercial litigation; and labor law.

Adv. Gutwirt represents his clients in all courts and tribunals in connection with these matters, as well as in arbitration and mediation proceedings. He provides ongoing counsel and strategic and legal advice, including in connection with resolving disputes before they reach the courts. He provides ongoing counsel to officers and directors in general, and to developers and contractors throughout the life of a project in particular. In this capacity, Adv. Gutwirt serves as a mediator in commercial disputes in the aforementioned fields and assists the parties in finding suitable solutions for existing and emerging disputes.

Adv. Gutwirt has acquired unique expertise in the fields of real estate litigation and provisional remedies (attachments, injunctions and more) and specializes in handling large, high-profile and complex disputes in the real estate field. Adv. Gutwirt represents large corporations that operate in these fields in various litigation proceedings and commercial disputes.

Among Adv. Gutwirt's clients are companies, both private and public, both Israeli and international, that operate in, among others, the fields of real estate, retail, service provision, and defense equipment. In addition, Adv. Gutwirt also represents individuals.
